'Gene McC[illegible] Victim of Terrifying Mishap at Chemical Factory!

Well Known Local Man Stumbles Into Evaporating Pan Filled With Boiling Liquid, Early Wednesday Morning; Rushed to Bradford Hospital in Precarious Condition.

Eugene McCarty, aged 47 years, who boards with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank McCarty, in East street, is in a precarious condition at the Bradford hospital as the result of stumbling headlong into a large evaporating pan filled with boiling chemical liquid in the plant of the Norwich Chemical company, East Smethport, about 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

McCarty, who is a bricklayer by trade and lately an employe at the acetone plant, entered the Norwich plant about 1 a. m., and finding the workmen too busy to talk, amused himself by watching the process of evaporation. In some unaccountable manner he stumbled and fell, pitching headlong into the boiling pan. Several of the workmen perceiving what had happened, rushed to the rescue and pulled him from the scalding liquid, not however, without realizing that his condition was precarious in the extreme.

A phone message brought Dr. W. A. Ostrander to the scene, who, following examination, found McCarthy's body scalded in spots from shoulders to feet. After administrating first aid, the physician sent the injured man to the Bradford hospital.

How the man's head escaped the scalding fluid is a mystery. According to Doctor Ostrander, it was quite difficult to determine the exact extent of McCarthy's burns and the outcome of the case is considered doubtful. That the burns were deep, was evidenced by the fact that from a number of spots the flesh peeled off when touched.

It is said that McCarthy frequently visited the plant by night, and for the reason that he was familiar with practically all its workings, the men on duty did not think he would require watching.

Workmen at the plant were horrified when they realized what had happened, but with rare presence of mind they pulled the unfortunate man from the scalding liquid more dead than alive. How he came to stumble and fall, no one can say. It is believed, however, that he became drowsy and was on the point of leaving for home when the dreadful mishap occurred.

LOCAL MARKSMEN SHOW WONDERFUL IMPROVEMENT SINCE TAKING TO CAMP

Marked improvement in the shooting ability of certain members of the Olds Rod and Gun club, who have taken to woods and camp since the opening of the deer season, was reported this week. As the story in verification of the report goes, Attorney Claude Shattuck stirred up a large buck deer the other day and, thinking to give his fellow campers some fun, drove it in the direction of the camp, occupied by a quartet of marksmen, who, upon catching sight of the movie animal, blazed away simultaneously, then waited for the smoke to clear to note results. But strange to relate there were no results—that is, insofar as the eye could see—and the question now before the house is: Did any of the marksmen hit the buck or was the simultaneous charge from all four guns so powerful as to blow it literally to pieces? It is, perhaps, unnecessary to state, that the latter opinion prevails, although there are some persons, sufficiently sarcastic, ironical and cynical to assert that they never touched him.

CUSOPUS CLUB PLANS LADIES' NIGHT MEET AT METHODIST CHURCH

It will be Ladies' Night meeting of the Cusopus club next Monday evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the basement of the M. E. church, where an elegant banquet, prepared by the ladies of the Priscilla club, will constitute one of the most delightful features of that which promises to be a most delightful occasion. While the club members and their guests are partaking of the good things a four-piece orchestra will render beautiful music. Following the banquet Mr. J. C. Backus will give a resume of all facts pertaining to electricity and its installation in Smethport. The concluding number of the evening will be the competition for prizes on the part of lady and gentlemen contestants.

L. L. Bishop, superintendent of the Allegheny National Park project will attend the Ladies' Night meeting of the Cusopus club, Monday evening at the Methodist church and deliver an address outlining plans of national forest conservation.

WAS TRUCK PLUNGES FROM KASSON BRIDGE INTO MARVIN CREEK.

A large gasoline truck owned by the Atlantic Refining company and driven by Ralph Provin of Smethport, skiddel off the bridge near Kasson at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and plunged a distance of 10 or 12 feet into Marvin creek. Beyond a severely sprained shoulder and minor bruises, Mr. Provin escaped unhurt. Nearby residents came to the rescue and succeeded in bringing the big truck to land, where it was discovered that the cab was demolished and the truck badly dented in spots. A few minor repairs will make it serviceable again.

MURDER TRIAL LOOMS.

Criminal court opens Monday with some 30 cases docketed. The most important case to be tried is that of Charles McCormick, of Kane vicinity indicted for the murder of "Billy" Reynolds, woodsman, October last following a fight resulting from a drinking bout.

NEW ELECTRIC PLANT A REVENUE PRODUCER CITY TREASURER SAYS.

Smethport's new electric light and power plant is a revenue producer. According to Borough Manager Backus' report to council last Monday night, receipts for the month were in the neighborhood of $400, with expenditures totaling about $170, and with expectations of far greater returns when all requests for electricity have been fulfilled.

The business of Monday evening's session was given over to routine work the features of which were the paying of all bills including the bills for the new bridge to the interstate glass plant.

FARMERS VALLEY SURE TO GET OIL REFINERY.

Warren oil interests with E. B. Stroud of Bradford, who have been seeking a site for an oil refinery at Farmers Valley, have been given the assurance that they may have any site they select, which fact, it is said, pleases them so well that an enterprise of the nature mentioned is practically assured. It is believed that a site along the railroad will be chosen. Both Smethport and East Smethport business men familiar with the negotiations, say it looks like a go.

HUSBAND GETS SURPRISE ON ENTERING HIS HOME AND HOT FIGHT FOLLOWS

When Charles Grossman, oil well driller, employed near Eldred, returned to his home in Willow street late last Saturday night, he was somewhat peeved and perplexed to find that Charles Keyes, teamster, was acting in his stead as head of the household and in such a pronounced manner that his presumption could not well be overlooked. Whereupon, it is related, asserted, raged, pounced upon the said Charles both in court and out, that the said Charles Grossman, becoming enraged, pounced upon he said Charles Keyes, dragged him from the bed which he was occupying and chastised him severely. It also is related that Grossman, knife in hand, was just on the point of mutilating Keyes, when Grossman's wife knocked him senseless with a vessel which she picked up from the floor near the shed. When Grossman fell from the blow delivered by his better half, it is related, Keyes made his escape, taking with him a couple of soiled duties and numerous body bruises. Just what transpired between husband and wife following Grossman's return to consciousness is not very well known, but it is known that Grossman had Keyes arrested on a charge that he didn't read well in print, and that he engaged Attorney Mullin of Eldred to institute divorce proceedings against his wife.

Taken into custody, Keyes was arraigned before Squire Gleason and bound over to court in the sum of $500. Unable to give bond he was surrendered to the custody of Sheriff Robinson.

Thus the first chapter ended.

Wednesday morning, it is said, immediate relatives of all parties concerned busied themselves as peacemakers, counselled with Grossman and his wife and succeeded in making such headway with the former that he agreed to drop all charges if the court would permit him. Followed a consultation in Squire Gleason's office Wednesday afternoon, where all principals save Keyes put in an appearance. Ever generous, the Squire met the peacemakers half way, and when Grossman announced his intention not to prosecute Keyes and to forgive any and all alleged indiscretions of his wife, the Squire nollied the charges.

The way to complete reconciliation having been effected, a happy reunion followed. To all intents and purposes husband and wife made up. In any event the suit for divorce was withdrawn.

News of the trouble was the talk of town during the early days of the week, it being considered the most pronounced case of domestic infelicity in Smethport's history. The testimony given in Squire Gleason's court was of a nature that would make even the most morbid, since. Throughout the entire proceedings, however, Mrs. Grossman strenuously denied her husband's charges against Keyes and insisted in effect stating that she was suffering from pain the night and that Keyes had come into her room simply to relieve her.

RELATIVES DEAD HERMIT PLAN TO FIGHT WILL MADE IN REV. DONAHUE'S FAVOR

The last will and testament of the late John Magner, hermit, devising all his property to Rev. Father Donahue, thought to be valued at between $70,000 and $80,000 may be contested. Four cousins of the late recluse, William Driscoll of Port Carbon, Pa., Mrs. W. Boyle and Mrs. P. Boyle of Coaldale, Pa., and Eugene Boyle of New Jersey, took the initial step toward a contest last Friday, when the Mesdames Boyle and Eugene Boyle arrived in Smethport and engaged counsel. It is said that the plaintiffs will claim that Magner made a will leaving his property to his cousins and that he had repeatedly expressed his intention to do so.

E. SMETHPORT REVIVAL MEET IS BIG SUCCESS

By REV. A. L. PANG.

Monday evening witnessed the closing scenes of a two weeks' meeting at East Smethport under the leadership of Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Williams. Truly, this has been a mountain-top experience in the lives of those who took advantage of the unusual opportunity offered in having talent of this order in our midst; and when we remember that this talent is not used for personal ends, but only for the glory of God and the salvation of men, our hearts rejoice.

Sunday was a great day. The Pentecostal service at 10:30 a. m. witnessed at its close every person in the building on their knees around the altar, and the power of God was present to save them from sin and fill believers with His presence. At the afternoon service a number were at the altar for salvation, for the baptism of the holy spirit and to make confession.

At the evening service the house was filled to the doors. Dr. Williams, preached a powerful sermon and when the call was given a goodly number came to the altar. The closing meeting, Monday evening, was a fitting climax to the campaign. Scores of people, old and young, stood up and testified to their faith in Christ and to thank Him for having saved them from sin. About 100 partook of communion after the sermon, and at the conclusion were anointed and prayed for bodily (divine) healing. This meeting will long remain in the minds of the people as one of the bright events of their lives.

Future meetings at the church will be held as follows: Sunday school, all ages; 6:45 p. m., Christian Endeavor, Marie Malen, leader; 7:30 sermon by A. L. Pang, pastor, with baptism service at the close.

Monday, December 11, the quarterly meeting will be held at East Smethport with Dr. Russell Shower in charge.

GAME CHIEF BUSY.

Game Commissioner L. K. Hogarth has been kept quite busy supervising the action of hunters since the deer season opened. During the past week he has been stationed at Hyner, Clinton county, from which point he and his aides radiate over Clinton and Lycoming counties to see that the game laws are observed to the letter. In all probability Mr. Hogarth will be absent from home until the close of the season.

Chas Kessler of Syracuse, N. Y., is the guest of his brother R. Kessler and family this week.

Mrs. C. A. Kranking entertained a number of small boys Wednesday evening in honor of her son Charles' ninth birthday.

Hotel Lamont, Kane, is Destroyed by Fire Guests Flee Rooms

Loss on Building $60,000; Pair of Fire Fighters Injured Seriously by Falling Wall; House Filled to Capacity and 75 Lodgers Escape in Night Clothes Just in Time.

The Hotel Lamont second largest hostelry in Kane, was wiped out by fire which started at 1 o'clock this Thursday morning, entailing a loss of $60,000 to the building; $8,000 personal loss to Harry S. Canfield hotel proprietor; $6,000 to Frank Hearst, owner of the pool room and tobacco store; $1,000 to the Calumet Baking Powder company occupying a business room for demonstration purposes, and several hundred dollars to the owner of the hotel barber shop. Insurance on the structure approximates $60,000.

Seventy-five guests were sleeping in their beds at the time and ere they were aroused the fire gained such headway that they were forced to leave the hotel in their night clothes. The New Thompson hotel threw open its doors to the refugees.

The fire is thought to have originated in the furnace room.

Patrick McKenna and Marel Burns, firemen, struck by a falling wall, were taken to the hospital, where McKenna was found to have suffered a broken arm and serious bruises, while Burns was severely bruised and burned.

BIG FIRE WIPES OUT MT. JEWETT FACTORY.

The Safety Sled plant at Mt. Jewett was partially destroyed by fire, which started about 8 o'clock Thursday morning, entailing a loss of about $35,000. The fire burned fiercely from the start and it was only by the exercise of good generalship that the fire fighters were enabled to save a part of the big structure.

The Sled factory is one of the largest of Mt. Jewett's manufactories, and in consequence of the fire several hundred men will be thrown out of work.

TWO BABES EAT POISON; ONE SWALLOWS NEEDLES AND GOES TO HOSPITAL

Tommy, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Nichols, got hold of some fat pelson while in the cellar of the home, Monday, and thinking it was good to eat, swallowed a portion. Mrs. Nichols turned just in time to realize what the child had done and, proving equal to the emergency, administered an emetic forthwith. While the little fellow was soon out of danger, he was quite ill for a time.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Raszmann of Crosby, thinking colored crayons were good to eat, partook liberally thereof, and required the service of Doctor Chadwick, plus an effective emetic, to obviate the danger.

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Franko, residing in the East end, got hold of a holder containing needles, Tuesday, and ere his mother could snatch them from him he put a number in his mouth and swallowed them. On the advice of a local physician the child was rushed to the Bradford hospital for an X-ray examination. What the outcome will be is altogether problematical.

FARMERS VALLEY MAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE WHEN HIT BY MACHINE.

B. F. Pelton of Farmers Valley narrowly escaped death last Sunday evening when he was hit by a Maxwell car driven by Fordy Miller and stunned to such an extent that he was unconscious for 20 minutes or more. Mr. Pelton, accompanied by a friend, was walking in the road when the Maxwell car, in which was seated Mr. Miller and his mother on their way to church, struck him. Immediately following the accident Mr. Miller jumped from his car and assisted the injured man to a nearby house. Following restoration to consciousness, he was conveyed to his home, where medical examination revealed a badly "jolted" condition generally. The accident was wholly unavoidable for the reason that the glaring lights of an approaching car blinded Mr. Miller so thoroughly that, for some seconds he could not see anything ahead of him. Mr. Pelton is said to be recovering nicely.

AUTOS COLLIDE.

Lon Van Sickles, driving a sedan and A. Gilfillan in a Ford runabout, were the principals in a collision at Main and Mechanic streets, Saturday morning, which resulted in the destruction of a lamp and a badly bent fender on the VanSickle car and a bent running board on Mr. Gilfillan's runabout. The accident resulted when the Gilfillan car turned into Main from Mechanic street just in time to collide with the VanSickle sedan.

REV. G. M. CULBERTSON IN HOT WATER AGAIN.

G. M. Culbertson, former minister, later stock salesman, who was in jail here this fall on a desertion charge, is in hot water again, this time on a charge of having sold worthless stocks to a number of farmers in the Batavia district. Just before the charge was made Culbertson was endeavoring to have himself declared a bankrupt. According to press dispatches, Culbertson who was sentenced by Judge Bouton to pay for the support of his wife and seven daughters in Bradford, now declares that he was divorced from his first wife and married a second, an Ohio woman. He also is mixed up in alleged questionable transactions in Buffalo, Rochester, Olean, Bradford and Shinglehouse.

NEWS OF THE SECTION

and Exchange Clippings

Austin—A fatal shooting accident occurred at the home of George Keene, Sunday, when Raymond, aged 13, was accidentally shot by his older brother, Robert. Mr. Keene, accompanied by his daughter, was attending church, when Robert rushed into the church bearing the news of the shooting. The two boys, together with two neighbors, William and Edward Knight, had been playing "Wild West" and had a 22 calibre revolver which was supposed to be empty. Suddenly, Robert took it from the nail on which it hung and pointing it at his brother, pulled the trigger. Raymond fell shot in the regions of the heart and died a few minutes later.

Coudersport—S. O. Dodd, a farmer near Sweden Valley caught a 200 pound bear very conveniently almost in his back yard. He was very much more fortunate than the hunters who tramped over Potter county day after day without even seeing a bear. Many hunters are arriving in Coudersport for the opening of the deer season and each one who arrives anticipates killing the first deer. We fear there aren't enough deer in Potter county to grant this wish to all the hunters who come. We are sure there was not enough bear to go around.

Coudersport—Coudersport has established a municipal forest. It is the first community in the state to take advantage of the Act of 1909, authorizing municipalities to acquire forest land for timber production. The tract, comprising about 100 acres of mixed birch, beech and maple in Hebron township, will be managed under a working plan prepared by the department of forestry. Profits will go into Coudersport's treasury. It is recommended that adjacent land be purchased and added to the forest.

Eldred—The road from Eldred to the New York state line is now open to travel. It is expected that the mercantile of Olean will immediately under the road from the end of the pavement to the Portville road, so that there should be pretty good traveling in that direction most of the year, until they can get it paved. A paper was subscribed to by several here to aid in the work of cindering, but it would seem as though York state could take care of that, as long as it has stood Eldred borough and township some $2,500 cash in getting the highway moved to the east side of the tracks, and in this manner did their share.

Johnsonburg—Sixteen cans of trout stopped here an hour Saturday while changing trains for Crosby and Hamlin, McKean county where they will be put in the streams by the state fisheries. Seven of the cans were of the rainbow variety, the remainder brook trout, some measuring 9 and 12 inches. A state man was in charge of the handling, who also took in the sights of the burg during the hour he had to wait here.

Port Allegany—The new motor car on the Coudersport and Port Allegany railroad was put into operation on Monday, and gives a much improved train service between here and Coudersport. In addition to the presen service, the motor train makes 3 trips daily between here and Coudersport. Leaving here at 9:45 and 11:50 a. m. and 5:20 p. m.

Coudersport—The Tri-State express has two carloads of fine registered Holstein cows to their farm at Ways, Ga., this week. The milk from this new dairy is shipped to Savannah, Ga. They are establishing an up to-date dairy in the south for fine cattle as well as producing high grade milk.

Port Allegany—Following the very successful meeting last Friday evening for the purpose of hearing George E. Foss, secretary of the state chamber of commerce, and considering the establishment of a chamber of commerce in Port Allegany, indications are very bright that such an organization will soon be established here.

Eldred—A. Bridenbaker was exhibiting a strawberry plant that he picked in the hollow back of A. J. Drake's property on Indian Creek, Wednesday, on which there was a large, nearly ripe strawberry. He said that there were a lot of blossoms about and this is quite unusual for the 29th of November.

Mt. Jewett—Alexander Johnson, one of the oldest settlers of this community, died at the Kane hospital, Wednesday, November 22. His widow and three children survive. Funeral services were conducted at Kanesholm church last Sunday. Interment in Kanesholm cemetery.

Tidioute—Samuel Hopkins, who resides near Tidioute, butchered a pig a week ago that dressed 631 pounds. It was of the Poland-China breed, and was only fifteen months of age. Who can beat this for a "pig story?"

Shinglehouse—Mrs. Wilhelmina Gonter aged 93 years, died Thursday afternoon from infirmities. Three daughters and two sons survive. The body was taken to Wellsville for interment.

Shinglehouse—Mrs. Alice Wolcott, 71, died last Saturday afternoon. For many years she was a teacher in the Olean schools.

TWO MEN NEARLY DIE FROM THE INHALATION OF POISONOUS GASSES

The Mt. Jewett Echo says: Gus Palmquist, owner and proprietor of the Central garage, had a narrow escape from death last Monday by asphyxiation. The morning being cold the garage doors were closed, while Mr. Palmquist crawled under his auto while the engine was running, for the purpose of making repairs on it. While in this position, he was overcome by the deadly carbon monoxide fumes, formed in the combustion chambers of the motor by the explosion of gasoline. He crawled out from in under the car and started for the door, but only got to the rear of the car, when he fell to the floor unconscious, and had it not been for the timely arrival of help, he would have been past all aid.

Joseph Shillinger had a similar narrow escape the same day. He had gone out to the garage, started the motor and was overcome by the deadly fumes. His wife's arrival in the nick of time saved him from an untimely death.

The fourteenth census of the United States manufactures for the year has just been issued by the Bureau of Census of the Department of Commerce showing statistics for Pennsylvania. The census shows McKean county to possess 205 manufacturing plants with an average number of 5,419 wage earners. The total amount paid for rent and taxes by the various manufacturing establishments was $20-894.93. Few people realize the value of the manufactured products turned out in the county in the year but the census shows the astounding figures to be $38,241,-405. The primary horse power utilized in the county is 19,196. Glass in various forms and wood products were the leading items on the list of manufactured goods.

JOHN D. JR.'S ADVICE.

The advice of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to everybody to write down in a book, every cent they spend and foot it up and classify it among the various departments of expenditure, and (2) make a budget for the coming year, and strictly confine themselves to it, is useful enough in a way, but for most persons of limited income the imaginary restraints of a private budget are replaced by the very real conditions of marketing and the monthly recurrence of rent, of the installment that must be paid to the co-operative building and loan association.

As a matter of fact our savings bank statistics, our life insurance statistics and the census information of what each of us is worth on an average, every decade, have often been cited as evidence that we are thrifty, and if Mr. Rockefeller is right in insisting on a weekly day of rest is it not likely that an annual vacation of two weeks is a wholesome thing? How much play time the members of Mr. Rockefeller's Bible class get we do not know, but Americans have had a reputation of being pretty close and hard workers. And while on the subject of budget and counting pennies, it is worth while to note that thrift may be carried to an excess, and that the miser is not particularly beautiful, and not always even useful, member of society.

Mr. Rockefeller's platitudes about the obligation of obeying the law whether we like it or not, are sound enough, but there is more sound than thought and reflection in it. The law is generally obeyed because one who does not obey it gets hurt. But one obeys largely because it injures one's standing in the community to break it. This is not always the case. The fugitive law was held to be constitutional in the famous—sometimes called infamous—Dred Scott decision, but the most religious people in the northern states violated that law deliberately. And if we would go back to the days when our patriotic ancesters were insisting on what they believed to be their rights we find that they were violating the law of the land, and that their reputation as patriots was based upon their breaking the law.

BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT.

Amercia is one of the most prosperous nations in the world today. Industry is activive, labor in demand. Farm prices are improving, business is on the upgrade, and over all the land there breathes a spirit of confidence.

Things were far different in March, 1921. Then labor was unemployed, agriculture in the doldrums, business depressed, interest rates abnormally high, and over the country hung a heavy cloud of despondency.

This desisive change in our national outlook is no accidental. It is due to the business methods employed by the Republican administration.

The Republican party came into power pledged to a definite policy and has stood definitely by those pledges. President Harding selected a cabinet especially qualified for the work of their respective departments. From that time business methods prevailed in every executive office.

The government rejected all restrictive, interfering, or inquisitorial legislation and bent all its energies to secure economy and restore sound conditions in public affairs. It took counsel with specialists and experts in any line where new legislation was contemplated and dealt frankly and openly with all the people. It attempted neither dictation nor usurption on the one hand, nor shirking and evasion on the other.

TIME TO WAKE UP.

St. Marys is rejoicing over a new time schedule on the Shawmut between St. Marys and Brockwayville necessitating the addition of a new train. Improved service has come in response to a long and insistent demand of St Marys and Brockwayville business interests. Thus from St Marys to the south train service on the Shawmut is all that could be desired. North of St. Marys to Olean, however, the same old ultra-economical war-time service continues. Isn't it about time for the business interests of Smethport, Mildred, Portville, Olean and other progressive boroughs to wake up and demand train service in keeping with a renewed and renewing prosperity?

One of Smethport's wits is authority for the statement that "the long skirt has killed the fatted calf."

THEY ARE HUMBLE

By HERMAN LORD.

Just got back from up in York State,
Driving thoro macadam roads;
Seems to me those York State pikes
Have seen too many heavy loads.
Course, you'll sometim's find some smooth ones,
Main through routes where big men ride,
Even those don't quite come up to Concrete—Pennsylvania's pride!

Oft before when up in York State,
Folks would say: "Where be you from?"
And then they'd say: What, Pennsylvania!
Gee, your roads are awful bum!
Rough and narrow, stony, crooked,
Say, why don't you fill them holes!
Only time your roads get fixed is
When the State paints white the poles!"

That's the way those York State fellows
Talked to me a few years back;
Told me how one trip to Pennsy
Lamed 'em, bruised 'em blue and black;
Just one time was all they cared to
Jump and hop around like toads,
Never again in Pennsylvania,
They'd stay homie and drive good roads.

Well, I talked with those same fellows,
When I saw them just last week,
Those pikes are not the pikes they once were,
"Roads?" I says—those guys looked meek,
Changed the subject, didn't seem to
Think so well of macadam,
When I saw they felt like that
I only grinned—I didn't slam.

I just says: "Come on, old timer!
Get your bus out, she needs air,
Bring 'er down to Pennsylvania,
Miles are getting fast down there!
Come and see some concrete pikes
As swee, as any maiden's pledge,
Hard and smooth and built for keeps,
And eighteen feet edge to edge."

FRANK KELL, HUMORIST, TELLS HOW A FARMER MANAGES HIS AFFAIRS.

"How a Farmer Spends His Time," a humorous sketch by Frank Kell, Tim, struck a reminiscent vein of early days in Frank Kell, and Mr. Kell has had several copies made to be mailed to several of his associates who were also raised on the farm.

The sketch follows:

"A farmer is an individual who works 18 hours a day for a living. If the undertaker gets him before he is 50 he don't get even that. He works from five in the morning until noon to pay his taxes and interest; he works all afternoon to pay the hired man, and after supper he goes out and works until dark to try to save enough to get his wife a new dress and hat, which she must have every five years whether she needs it or not.

"Some folks farm because they like to and cannot sleep after 4 o'clock in the morning; others because they have to and nobody cares about the rest. The farmer wakes up in the morning in springtime amid the beautiful notes of the song bird and in the fall wakes up as the other notes are due.

"A farmer raises a big family to help his farm. When they are young they can't help, and when they grow up they go to town and drive a street car or work in a bank.

"There are two kinds of farmers—check book farmers and grass roots and dirt farmers. The former have perfume on their handkerchief and the latter on their overalls. One makes his money in town and spends it in the country, the other is trying to save enough in the country to pay for what he has already spent in town."

Fall Plowing Helps Your Land.

On a heavy soil, or whatever a heavy coat of clover stubble or manure is to be turned under, fall plowing will favor an increase in the corn yield for the next year.

Forcing Molt.

Frequently hens do not molt until zero weather, and with few feathers to keep them warm, they freeze to death. Some breeders have found it a good practice to force the molt so that the birds can get into winter with a full coat of feathers.

Your Poultry House.

Does it satisfy you, or are you making plans for a new one? You will find that the Penn State Multiple Unit houses satisfies every principle sought in the modern chicken house. Get Extension Circular No. 91 from State College or your county agent and study it before you decide.

Care of Sows.

Feed the brood sow liberally. Give her plenty of protein for her own good and for the development of the embryo. Don't neglect the supply of mineral matter. Dry sows can be carried along on alfalfa hay, hay, corn, and perhaps a little tankage.

Winter Farmers' Week Programs.

The Winter Farmers' Week programs are now ready for distribution. Get one from the county farm bureau office and plan to spend a day or more at State College while the sessions are going on. The demonstration days shown arranged in the program are rolling to subject and to such as dairying, farm crops, livestock, poultry, etc. Don't forget the dates, December 18 to 24.

BILL SAM'S DICTIONARY

By J. L. MARTIN

Lem Gardenier, who always did like his "licker," came near getting drunk last Sunday night. A fellow sneaked up to Lem's house with some real "moonshine," which he offered to sell to Lem for twenty dollars a quart. All that Lem lacked of getting drunk was, he didn't have the twenty dollars.
